Town meetings start, led by Andover, Newry, West Paris

Annual town meeting season begins this week, with voters in area towns gathering together to elect town officials, OK budgets, and pass judgment on a variety of proposed ordinances.

West Paris voters to decide on new ordinance

Last year's Town Meeting overwhelmingly approved a one-year moratorium on new subdivisions, in large part to give the town time to develop an ordinance governing such development activity. Town Meeting this year will have the opportunity to renew such an ordinance.

The 15-acre single-space subdivision ordinance proposed for the town is the work of a committee that included members of the Planning Board, Board of Selectmen, and the community at large. The Androscoggin Valley Council of Governments provided technical assistance with the proposed ordinance.

The comprehensive ordinance provides a legal framework for managing subdivision activity. It covers authority and administration, definitions, procedures for review, general requirements, roads, and procedures for waivers and modification to the ordinance.

At a recent, well-attended public hearing on the ordinance, residents were generally supportive of it, but some did express concern over two provisions: one that includes lots over 40 acres under the review authority of the town, and a second that sets road construction standards for private roads.

As a result of these concerns, two articles have been added to the Town Meeting warrant to allow the voters—should they choose—to amend the subdivision article to eliminate these provisions.

These new articles were not included in the printed warrant in the town's annual report, but have been added to the proposed warrant as articles 26.1 and 26.2.

Voters at this year's meeting will also be faced with finding a replacement for First Selectman Duane Abbott. Citing outside commitments and a lack of time, Mr. Abbott has announced he does not intend to run for re-election, nor will he accept nomination from the floor.

Mr. Abbott did not hold the possibility of running for the board in the future, if he found himself in a position where he had to make a vote to it.

No one has yet announced for the open position on the board.

The town budget to be proposed to voters this year totals $386,027, up approximately 9 percent from last year. However, the amount to be raised by taxation ($202,299) is $18 less than last year.

This year's Town Meeting will convene on Tuesday, March 7, at 7 p.m., in the gymnasium of the Agnes Gray School.

Telstar places 5 on state x-c team

Five Telstar x-c skiers—three girls and two boys—qualified for the Maine state team that will compete in the Eastern High School Championships at Lake Placid, N.Y., March 19-21. Telstar placed more skiers on the 22-person team than any other school in the state. Mt. Blue had the second highest number of the state teams, with 11.

The five individuals who earned berths on the state team are Paula Michaud, Kristen Powell, Crystal Chase, Nathan Misericordi and Brian Remington. Shilo Hutchins is the second alternate on the girls' squad. Each squad has 11 members.

The selection process took two days of skiing last Thursday and Friday. Thursday's qualifying races were at the Bethel Inn x-c trails, with the competitors skating the traditional, diagonal style. On Friday the racers skied at the Black Mountain x-c course using the freestyle, or skating, technique. The combined finishes of the competitors determined who made the state team and who didn't. A total of 27 boys and 20 girls competed.

The Telstar racers achieved the following combined scores:

Paula Michaud, 2nd in traditional and 2nd in freestyle, for a 2nd-place overall; Kristen Powell, 4th and 10th, for a 7th

Opinions

Public hearing needs public input

Albany residents were told last Friday that the public hearing on a proposed subdivision in their township will not be held at their town hall—as had been requested—or even in Bethel. Rather, it will be held in Farmington.

The Land Use Regulation Commission, which is the state's planning agency for Albany and the nearly 500 other unorganized territories, will hold the public hearing in Farmington, in May, in order to combine it with a public hearing on a gravel pit application in the Sugarloaf area.

This seems to be a bad decision on LURC's part. The proposed subdivision is for 55 homesites designed for seasonal homes. This number of additional homes in Albany, along Rte. 5-55, will have a tremendous impact on the area, and therefore as many voices as possible should be heard at the public hearing. (The public hearing will be on a request by the developer to re-zone about 1,000 acres from general to residential. The developer is JAE Realty Trust, of Wellesley Hills, Mass.)

Hold the public hearing in Farmington will mean that fewer concerned people from Albany will get to have their say. This would be a disservice to them—and to the permitting process. The LURC should reconsider its decision and should hold the public hearing in the Albany area.

Letters

To the Editor:

Greetings. I write in response to all that has been recently published about prison overcrowding, inmate suicides, suicide attempts and escapes from county institutions.

None of these, or the need of new and bigger facilities, would be necessary if the two major contributing issues were addressed properly and solved first, thereby eliminating the hopeless situation now facing these men.

Actually [there are] three major issues, the first being recognition of the simple fact that there exists no corrections or rehabilitation at all, only self-sought-after spiritual programs by the inmate population on their own, such as the administratively discriminated against AA program and spiritual counseling from chaplains and their associates.

The institution's real policy is one designed to create hate, discontent, and establish a never-ending supply of repeat offenders to fuel the system. The reason is why the institution has indisputably proven to be absolutely no deterrent to crime and perpetuates the system dollar court system and prison dollar.

The second issue is the 125 men here at Thomaston alone that fall into the category of being political prisoners. [These] men have been probably wrongfully convicted by illegal means for merely speaking out and stating the truth about the system, corrupt justice and prosecution systems. These men are not violent, nor terrorist, nor non-American. They are patriotic, dedicated veterans, sons, family men and husbands, but above all believers in the Constitution of the United States and our way of life. They have been punished by illegal means of our police state, false affidavits, illegal search, wire taps, perjury, jury tampering and generally acceptable conspiracy and corruption encompassing the whole spectrum of the legal community including the media and appointed attorneys. Acts that in time of war are considered traitors against the country people should be to us because a cold internal government who does exist and it is a war for rights, truth, fairness, equality and a return to ethics in government here in Maine.

The third issue is that of bringing our sentences into alignment and compliance with the rest of the free world, which are less than half those dictated out in this police-controlled state.

The people and citizenry deserve to know what is really going on behind the iron curtain erected by this egotistic, atheistic and corrupt people and our countrymen here in Maine.

Again this letter is from a convicted felon. I remind you of a friend of mine, also a convicted felon, a man named Jesus Christ. May God bless you all.

A note from the publisher

Viewers of Channel 6's evening news—which I believe includes most TV viewers in our area—were treated last Wednesday night to a lead story that looked like big guerrilla news reporting.

The WCHS news crew marched into the offices of the Lewiston Sun Journal and demanded to know when the company was going to close down the afternoon Journal, and why, and what would become of the staff, and on, and on.

I can see being hospitable to guests, but the Channel 6 crew certainly didn't behave like guests, camera lights blazing while started Sun Journal workers were trying to do their jobs. I would like to see some guidelines for trespassing.

Being a reporter gives one the privilege of asking questions—sometimes embarrassing questions. But it doesn't give one the right to invade private property or act boorishly. John Impemba—Channel 6's weather watcher at the scene—is a respected former print journalist (formerly with the Boston Herald) and should have known better.

I asked WCHS news director Jeff Marks why he did the story. He said he wanted to get a scoop.

Why doesn't it? But it doesn't mean you have to throw common decency out the window.

As for the story itself, it's been known for at least a year in journalistic circles that the Costello family, which owns the Lewiston papers, has been considering closing the afternoon paper because circulation has been dropping. I don't know that I'd consider it a scoop to report that fact.

What I felt was most careless about the story was from the WCHS news director that SAD 44 Board of Directors since that town pays a larger cost per student than any of the other towns in this SAD. This is definitely not the solution to the problem it would violate a basic tenet of republican government—no matter how much money (and correspondingly how many tax dollars) the individual town has to vote. This is not to say that Donald Trump does not command more influence than Joe Sipack, but that in our egalitarian system each gets a little vote.

Mrs. Sysko is right to point out Newry's dilemma of which there is no easy answer. The school funding law, originally established in the 1950s with the formation of school administrative districts, and modified several times since that time, is doing precisely what its authors intended it to do, putting the burden on these towns to pay the piper to pay the fiddler. Newry's Sun Journal operation employs 350 workers. But let's say it does. Still, the Journal itself has just a handful of reporters and editors. The advertising, production and circulation people work for the company, not for the Journal. Thus, when the paper is finally shut down, there will be just a dozen or so journalists out of work. And the way the Costello family runs its operation, no one is ever laid off. So I suspect the Journal staffers will be given new jobs.

What I called the WCHS news director's story was just to complain about the handling of the Lewiston Sun Journal story. I also wanted to complain about Joe Cupo's news reporter. Why is it that I asked news director Marks) that every night we have to see what the weather is like at Saddleback? Why can't Mr. Cupo report on conditions at Sunday River, or Mt. Abram, or Sugarloaf?

Mr. Marks—who is a bright and likeable guy, and who was once my guest at a Rotary meeting—said the matter of weather watchers will be brought up for discussion among his staff this week. He said Cupo is not really trying to bring Saddleback, but it might be better if he did other weather watchers at other areas—or at least simply said Rangeley rather than Saddleback. I expect we'll be seeing some changes in the weather report format.

By the way, if anyone would like to be Channel 6's weather watcher in our area, I suggest you give Cupo a call while the issue is on the table for discussion.

Results of a survey conducted by the Regional Department at Telstar Regional High School have been compiled and are quite interesting. If one can summarize the three sets of responses—from teachers, students and parents—the weather comes through loud and clear is that the high school needs another guidance counselor.

Not that the school population is unhappy with Dan Hart. On the contrary, they're very happy with him, but they mostly seem to believe that there is too much counseling needed (on personal problems, school procedures, future plans) for one person to handle.

A comment from a teacher was typical: "As a senior or junior, it is the counselor who has been more than he can possibly handle. He's a super person and conscientious, but he has added to his own problems by adding services and his program to the point where he can't handle it by himself and it's all so important to him that he doesn't know where to cut back, or he doesn't want to cut back."

Another student comment was, "I think our school guidance counselor is very good, one, I think it is helpful for one year to have a guidance counselor, but it's not the best way." "I think it's the only alternative short of enlarging an already large board of directors."

What I felt was most careless about the story was from the WCHS news director that SAD 44 Board of Directors since that town pays a larger cost per student than any of the other towns in this SAD. ## Local sessions will focus on chemical dependency

The SAD #44 Chemical Health program, under the direction of Louise Chapman, will be sponsoring Community Awareness sessions in the towns of Andover, Woodstock, and Bethel to better serve the outlying population.

Each program will consist of three consecutive two-hour sessions. Session I will discuss the disease concept of chemical dependency. Session II looks at the dynamics of the affected family, and the final session will focus on prevention and relapse and recovery. Each session begins at 7 p.m. and runs until 9 p.m.

"We have a good program working within the school system, but our priority is to get out into the community," Ms. Chapman said. "The problem of substance abuse is one of the home and community, as well as the school, and we must work together. Education and awareness for all three populations is the key to meeting Nancy Reagan's goal of 'Schools Without Drugs' for our future generation."

Presenters will be Louise Chapman (SAD #44 Chemical/Health coordinator), Dave Walton (SAD #44 Elementary Guidance—Woodstock/Andover); Rod Abbott (SAD #44 Substance Abuse Team and English/History Teacher).

The schedule at the various locations are as follows:

Andover Elementary School: Session I—Wednesday, March 8; Session II—Wednesday, March 15; Session III—Wednesday, March 22.

Woodstock Elementary School: Session I—Wednesday, March 29; Session II—Wednesday, April 5; Session III—Wednesday, April 12.

Telstar Regional M/S/H/S: Session I—Wednesday, May 3; Session II—Wednesday, May 10; Session III—Wednesday, May 7.

Each session 7 p.m.—refreshments will be served.

Olde Home Day will see opening of time capsule

Plans for Andover Olde Home Day 1989, scheduled for Aug. 5, are well under way after a meeting of the committee held recently.

The committee selected the theme "Anniversaries" to recognize the 185th anniversary of the incorporation of the town and the 10th anniversary of the annual Olde Home Day.

The committee is looking for someone to chair the traditional Cow Chip Fair as long-time chairmen Ellen and Woody Greske will no longer be living in the area.

Rex White, of Rumford, an employee at Andover Wood Products, has drawn a logo to be used on bumper stickers and Olde Home Day buttons. Sale of the souvenir buttons help defray the cost of the activities.

In keeping with the anniversary theme, a special Olde Home Day evening will be held on the same day evening as the community when the time capsule buried on the 150th anniversary of the town, in 1954, will be opened. A band concert and picnic is planned in conjunction with this event. Roger Mills will be chairing this portion of the celebration.

The next committee meeting will be March 8, at 7 p.m., at Allie Gull's house. Anyone in the community interested in participating in Olde Home Day is invited to attend.

Newry gets 2nd fire truck

Newry received a second fire truck this past week—a 1969 International with a 2,000-gallon tank and a small portable pump. It has just 4,800 miles on it, according to Fire Chief Virgil Conright. Like the town's first fire truck, it was given to the town by the State Department of Forests for a surplus.

Chief Conright told the Board of Selectmen yesterday (Tuesday) that he was concerned with the way cars are parked at the skiway condos. The chief said in case of fire he wonders if his equipment could get near the structures. He said he would talk with skiway officials about his concerns.

Sigmund Sysko, of the Solid Waste Committee, told the Board he was pleased to hear that the door-to-door pickup of the town's trash—combined with recycling efforts—might be the best solution to the town's solid waste problem after the Bethel landfill is closed to Newry's trash. His committee will meet March 13 at the town office.

Also to meet March 13 will be the Zoning Committee. Jim Sysko and Brooks Morton told the selectmen that the committee would be starting a Growth Management Committee. This committee would work with the Zoning Committee to growth issues, specifically the development of a Comprehensive Plan and a Zoning Ordinance.

The two committees would work with the consultant the Town seems likely to hire to help with the plan and the ordinance. (The consulting fee of $20,000 is $10,000 more than originally budgeted, but town officials would like to see $15,000 raised by Town Meeting, with the additional $5,000 coming from state subsidies.)

The Growth Management Committee,

as envisioned by Sysko and Morton, would be composed of five members: a selectman, a farmer, a large landowner, the code enforcement officer and a citizen-at-large.

The new committee will be appointed by the Zoning Committee at its March 13 meeting. The two committees will meet with the consultant if he's hired—March 27.

Rumford Hospital stressing healthy eating habits during March

During March, dietitians and dietetic technicians at Rumford Community Hospital will sponsor the following activities:

1. The "Culinary Hearts" Kit—will take place over six weekly two-hour classes. Learn to prepare low-fat, low cholesterol, low salt, low calorie meals. Call 364-4381, ext. 208, for the dates and cost.

2. Each week the hospital cafeteria will feature a Heart Healthy menu selection.

3. A different nutrition topic will be highlighted in the hospital cafeteria each week. Appropriate pamphlets will be available in the hospital cafeteria each week.

4. Displays of handout material on various nutrition topics will be available in the hospital lobby and out-patient waiting area.

Bethel Bancorp earnings up slightly in 3rd quarter

Jim Delamater, president and CEO of Bethel Bancorp—the parent company of Bethel Savings Bank FSB—this week announced income of $252,010 for the third quarter ending Jan. 31. This equated to $4.48 per share, compared to $4.17 a share (on earnings of $246,004) for the same period last year.

Net income for the nine months ending Jan. 31 totaled a record $787,994, or $1.49 per share, compared to $677,250, or $1.28 per share, for the same period last year.

Total assets were $65,575,335 as of Jan. 31, which represents an increase of $7,021,390 since fiscal year end April 30, 1988.

Newry

By AMY HANSOM

Karlene Bachelder was guest of honor at a surprise birthday party at her home Sunday, Feb. 12. Present were Karlene and Reginald Bachelder, Gilberte Seeley, Newry, and Brent Bachelder and Terry O'Dowd, Providence, R.I. Coffee, cake and a meal were served. The cake was furnished by Brent Bachelder. Karlene received gifts.

On Thursday, Feb. 23, Karlene was given another surprise birthday party by friends at the home of Beatrice Lowell. Cake, ice cream and coffee were served. The cake was made and decorated by Betsy Clark. Attending, besides the honored guest and hostess, were Betsy Clark and Gilberte Seeley. The honored guest received gifts.

Karlene Bachelder, Gilberte Seeley, Betsy Clark, and Beatrice Lowell were in Rumford bowling Feb. 22. Karlene was high scorer on both triple and single, with one of 119 on the single.

The Annual Town Reports have been received from the printer and are now available at the Town Office during regular office hours, Tuesdays 3 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Thursday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The Annual Town Meeting will be held at the Municipal Building, March 6, at 7 p.m. The total taxes $25,000, 54 percent lected taxes, from a total tax commitment of $496,605.34, plus $10,38 in supplemental taxes, or 5.24 percent uncollected; total discount allowed was $5,109.16 with $216 in abatements. Of the unpaid taxes, $1,012.75 (eight properties) were resident, while $25,028.79 (67 properties) were non-resident.

Many of the unpaid non-resident were individuals, with the same person listed as owner of two or more properties. One non-resident owner of record has liens for 1987 taxes on two units, and unpaid 1988 taxes on three units.

Interest at the rate of 11 percent is now being charged on unpaid taxes, and 30-day notices will soon be sent out. If the tax is not paid before the end of the 30-day period, liens will be put on, to allow a discount on taxes paid before a certain date, charge interest on taxes paid before a certain date, etc.

The Post and Auxiliary wish Dana Brooks a speedy recovery from his recent illness.

MUNDT-ALLEN POST NEWS

A very enjoyable Valentine's Day supper of oyster stew, chicken pie and lasagna, followed by ice cream, strawberries and cake was held at the Mundt-Allen Post #31, with 68 present.

The Post thanked Jackson-Silver Post for their attendance.

A birthday party will be held at the Legion hall March 14, at 5:30 p.m., for members and guests. This is in honor of the founding of the American Legion.

March 15, at 7 p.m., the Auxiliary will serve supper to the Shrine directors.

Robert Lowe, finance officer, said another $800 scholarship has been voted on and approved. This additional scholarship will be known as the Eugene Buswell Memorial Scholarship and will bring to $4,000 the value of scholarships and trust donations (five at $800 each). The scholarships are available to graduating seniors who have a C or better average and who qualify to attend a one, two, or three-year trade school. The deadline for scholarship applications is May 1. Applications can be picked up at the Telstar guidance office.

The state Legion convention will be held in Boothbay Harbor, June 15-18. At Monday night's meeting, Carolyn Brooks, Robert Lowe, and Joe Taylor were picked as delegates to represent the Post.

Finance officer Lowe asks that any member planning to attend the convention contact him, since the Post will pay the registration fee.

The Post and Auxiliary wish Dana Brooks a speedy recovery from his recent illness.

Tri-Town Rescue

By AMY HANSOM

The Ladies Circle will meet Tuesday, March 7, at the home of Sylvia Wright, at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will be held Tuesday instead of Monday, because of Town Meeting Monday.

The warrant contains 51 articles, for election of officers, appropriations for Town charges, to see if the Town will vote to allow a discount on taxes paid before a certain date, charge interest on taxes paid before a certain date, etc.

The selection committee, recommending a 2 percent discount on taxes paid within 30 days and interest of 12 percent on taxes not paid before Oct. 1.

The highest item in the Town Budget is $58,000 for the Fire Department Fund. This would be used together with the $8,000 appropriated in 1988 to purchase land and build a station on Sunday River.

Ambulance personnel include Grace Archer as chief, Joyce Howe as assistant chief, Zeba Weider as training officer, Harry Archer and Bill Herrick as vehicle officers, Warren Emery and Jack Roberts as housing officers, Shirley Koskelo as supply officer, Ken Bacon as communication officer, Mary Emery as secretary, and Ken and Bessie Giddings as billing officers.

Search and Rescue officers include Michael Emery as team leader, Dorene Benson as assistant team leader, Harry Archer as training officer and Grace Archer as secretary.

The auxiliary will meet March 6 at the Trap Corner barn, at 7 p.m. A dance and a variety show will be planned at the meeting. Anyone interested in fundraising for the service is welcome to attend.

CARD OF THANKS

A sincere thank-you to everyone who has helped during my many months of ups and downs. I can't imagine what it would have been like without you. Cards, phone calls, flowers, goodie bags and visits are so much appreciated when you are "down." Thank you again.

WALKING WITH JESUS CHRIST

For some time I have been troubled by "easy" salvation. "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shall be saved." The question is how many of us are really saved? The answer is head or heart salvation - what a difference - 18° apart. True faith or bogus profession.

True faith is total abandonment of self will, full surrender to the Lordship of Jesus Christ. A logical question of faith is: Is it a fruit of salvation to be no fruit, John 15. The truly born again person - regardless of their daily walk with Jesus says in Mark 8, "Take up my cross and follow me" - with a willingness to do whatever the Lord demands - meaning "death to self" - knowing that our old self was crucified with Him. Paul said in Galatians 2:20 "I no longer live but Christ lives in me."

Coming to Christ is full commitment - not, I'll give you my time of one hour on Sunday but the rest of my time is my own.

The truly born again person holds his heart on the "rock" Jesus Christ and, when the storms of life come he has an anchor that holds.

The sin of empty hearts: professing to be wise, they became fools, since what may be known about God is plain to them - so that men are without excuse. Romans 1:19-20.

We must remember that Satan - the great deceiver - can very well deceive a person to believe he is saved. The answer again - John 15 - trimming the branches and fruit of the tree proves themselves, especially me - to examine my self and be sure I am a true prodigal son. The fruit of the tree is the power of the redemptive power of Jesus Christ - witnessing by action and deed - that others might see and hear with their spiritual eyes and ears - knowing that God will be glorified, the Lord Jesus magnified; and we will be satisfied! Remember, it is Christ that we serve, not ourselves.

Telstar students enjoy a week of Winter Carnival

On Saturday evening, Feb. 18, Telstar Regional High School held its annual Winter Carnival Formal. This is the culmination of a week of festivities and competition among the four classes.

During the week, each class earned points through participation in various theme days. Monday was sunburn day; Wednesday was dress up day, where girls wore skirts and the guys donned shirt and tie; Thursday was class color day, and also the talent show where each class had three acts in competition.

The results of the talent show saw senior Brant Remington, doing an original comedy act, and junior Jason Misserotti, soloing on his guitar, sharing 4th place. A group of juniors choreographed and danced to capture 3rd place. Senior exchange student Mariko Kamijo, took 2nd place for her piano solo, and back by popular demand to capture 1st place was sophomore Brandon "Elvis" Moore.

On Friday, a day of inside and outside activities, including volleyball, "mitten" basketball, floor hockey, egg toss, frisbee throw, toboggan races, and tug-o-war, finished the activities. The overall standing for the week were: Freshman 4th, Sophomore 3rd, Juniors 2nd and "Class of '89" in 1st place.

At the formal, on Saturday evening, students danced to the music of DJ. Chris Chapman in a brightly decorated pink and black cafeteria with the "Hold on to the Memories" Royalty was voted for during the early part of the evening, with the coronation taking place at 9 p.m.

Fourth runners-up were Sandy Plawlock and Jeff Lyons; 3rd runners-up were Alison Davis and Jamie Blake; 2nd runners-up were Janina Remington and Jim Martin. 1st runners-up were Vanessa Cooper and Gregor Axler, and the 1989 Winter Carnival Queen and King were Alison Chapman and John Elliott.

A cloudy morning as I sit down to type this morning. Not a very good report on the weather either. I don't know what other folks' doorways look like but ours is a sheet of ice this morning. We sure need some sand or something on it before traveling on it. It sounds like we might get more bad weather but will hope not. I better get for Sunday as we have to get the tickets for the Ice Capades all right. We have had the tickets for a while so we hope we can use them.

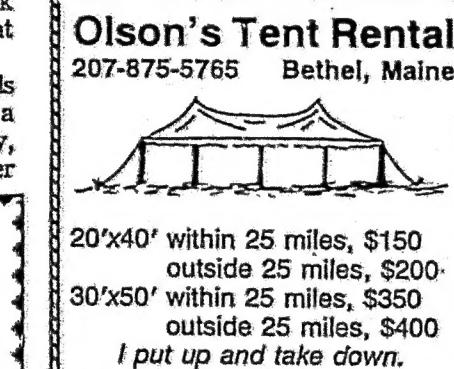

Michael brought Courtney up on Sunday and she stayed with us until yesterday, which was Wednesday. Wynona came up with Kariann and took me to the doctor and then took Courtney home and left Kariann for the rest of the week. Michael had the day off and I am not sure so I don't know hardly what to do as Grandmother doesn't have as many things at her home as they have at home. We can't get as many stations on TV, we don't have a VCR, we don't have all the toys they have at home, so it is quite different for them. Courtney and I played cards quite a lot while she was here and we taught her a couple of new games while she was up here. She certainly is a good girl to teach her. Also, she went to Grange with us on Monday night and was a good girl for me. Kariann is out playing the piano and singing as she likes to do while here. I wish they had a piano at home to practice on as they both love music and enjoy playing on the piano while here. They don't bang on it but play nicely, which is more than I can say for lots of kids. We have taught them to value the piano and use it nicely, and that's all.

The birds and squirrels are busy this morning finding food for breakfast. It fascinates the girls to watch them, as they don't see such things at home in the city. I have to admit that we get a lot of enjoyment watching the birds and squirrels also. They can bring a smile to one's face and even make you laugh out loud at some of their antics. Oh yes, Russell seems to have won the battle of whether the squirrel gets into the bird feeder or not. The squirrel still gave it his best try and got into it after Russell identified it and tried to get it out. He stalled through the air a number of times trying to reach his goal, but it just didn't work for him.

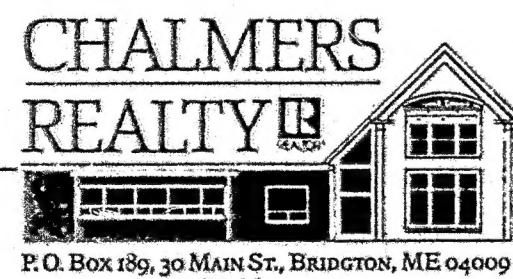

We also have a number of mourning doves that come to feed, as well as blue jays—so have a variety of birds to watch as well as the squirrels. It took a long time for the chickadees to find the feeder out front and feed there, but they are there most of the day now and the squirrels have found that they can find some seeds there on the ground if they look hard enough. It is fun to watch them at any time of day.

Went to town for groceries and errands last Friday, as usual. It seems to be a routine trip each week. On Saturday, Peggy and Russell looked the paper over Michael Jason Cross celebrated his first birthday Feb. 18. Guests at Michael's party were Debbie and Craig Jason and Phyllis Smith, Norton and Phyllis Cross, Lainey Cross, Ruby Coolidge, Donny, Terese and Nathan Walker, and his parents, Stephen and Rosalie Cross.

There were 20 colorful helium balloons from Aunt Lainey. He had two cakes: Flossie Berliner made a Cooke Monster, and Phyllis Cross made one with a Teddybear on it. Michael received many nice gifts, and the children enjoyed the Feed the gull games were representative. A note was sent on a balloon. He hopes someone will find it and send back a note.

The Princeton (N.J.) High School girls track team recently won the Division II State Indoor Track Meet. Senior Cary Willard, daughter of David and Patricia Willard, took 1st place in the 800 meter with a personal record time of 2:27.2. Cary's strong start put her in front of top-seeded and 2nd place Janice Johnson Park, who came in second at 2:31.1.

Willard followed this spectacular run with a third place in the 1500 meter to ensure Princeton's team title.

I want to thank Mrs. Bessy for the card I received, as it is always good to hear from one's own. I do not have many friends now, I wish I did, but have many people tell me they like to read what I write and that is encouraging at any time, so thanks to all who have written to me or called or have met and told me they like what I write.

Nathan Bean will be attending the American Legion National Leadership's American Youth Conference, in Valley Forge, Pa., March 15-19. The conference will be conducted by the Freedoms Foundation, of Valley Forge.

Bethel House and then called on a friend, Pammy Farnum and family in Bryant Pond, on the way home.

Friday was a day for Mary and Faye to go to Lewiston to the eye doctor.

The Hallowell 4-H Club were to have their Bowls on on Tuesday, but due to the bad weather, it was held on Friday, but hopefully will be held today or on Friday. Wish them all good luck.

Another week nearer spring even if the weather hasn't been that good so some good can be thought of and in time this rain may help some of the folks who are low on water. We will hope so anyway. Take care one and all and have a good week ahead.

Tom and Ruth Harrington are expected to arrive here on Tuesday on a 30-day leave from Germany. Ray, Janice and Patrick are looking forward to the three weeks they hope to have with them.

Arthur Berliner and Scott Mullen, of Woburn, spent part of vacation week with his parents, Robert and Jane Pinkham, were guests there one day last week.

The recent rain and snow was welcomed by those of us short of water.

Joy Yarnell called with additional helpful information concerning the Chinese lilies. They are still verdant; we can extend enjoyment with this help.

Steve French towed our truck to his garage for repair. It has been peaceful here without a vehicle and the hassle of commuting with road and weather conditions. However, we are ready to break out of confinement and expand our horizons.

The Ayatollah takes one extreme to battle the arch enemy Satan, but too many Christians, I'm afraid, take nearly the opposite view and practice gnosticism with the fallen angel. While communists has as ultimate goal annihilation of democracy, Satan's goal is to gain full control. The Ayatollah's approach probably won't succeed, but the human residents decide to let me have his hard-earned nutrition. Maybe his relatives were having a party.

Road race and x-c race biathlon on tap March 5

The Willing Workers' spring meeting will be held at Andrea Wing's house, Sunday, March 12 at 2 p.m. Please make an extra effort to attend this meeting. Plans will be made for the Easter Basket raffle to be held prior to Easter.

Mr. and Mrs. Mary Billings called on Esther and Olive Davis one day last week. Also Lettie Brooks called during the week with running errands for me. February week of full moon as sunny and fine to look out. I guess the chill was winter-like, but not as bad as pictured on the news.

Mr. and Mrs. James Mullen entered Esther and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Mullen, and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Mullen of Duckfield, at a dinner Sunday.

Esther Davis has been helping Olive Davis while she has been ill. She is one angel in disguise, believe me.

Pre-registration fees are $10 for individual entrants and $15 for team entries. Registration the day of the race will be held at the Bethel Inn, from 8 to 9:45 a.m.

Fees for entry on race day will be $15 per individual entrant and $25 per team.

Applications are available at the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce office, the River View Inn and other area locations. For further information on this event, call the Chamber office, 824-2382, or Dillon Gillies, at 824-2308.

THIS WEEK AT THE Moses Mason House

Approximately 100 persons braved the cold and ice to attend the Bethel Historical Society's 15th Annual Heritage Day on Wednesday, Feb. 22, at the Dr. Moses Mason House. As usual, a number of craft demonstrators/exhibitors were present, including Mike Murphy and several of his adult education class members, woodworking; Robin Fraser, stained glass; Mabel Kennett, quilting; Elizabeth Lord, quilting; Agnes Haines, basketmaking; Lois Hech, chair seating; Alden Kennefick, cheese making; Faye Hastings, rug braiding; Phyllis Deck, crewel embroidery; Florie Haines, knitting.

There were several local history books on display from the Bethel and Woodstock Historical Societies as part of the annual book fair. Also shown were a variety of historical films and videos with a heritage theme.

Judy Haskell, Mills Thomas and Florie Haines served as guides in the museum. Ernest Perkins, Dr. Moses Mason served the traditional Indian pudding to those wishing it from the hearth of the winter kitchen. Much appreciation is expressed to all those who made this year's Heritage Day such a resounding success.

The Clan MacBean has notified the Bethel Historical Society that the 12th annual Bear Reunion will be Thursday, March 2, in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House, beginning at 7:30 p.m. The program will mark the centenary of the Bethel water system. Any interested is cordially invited to attend.

A painting "Scene at Bethel, Maine, 1888" by David Johnson, is included in the show "Nature Transcribed," a current exhibit at Cornell's Herbert F. Johnson Museum of Art. The catalog for this show was published last month by the University Press of New England.

Friday the 24th and the weather was not too good for vacation as the snow which we were having Wednesday morning turned to rain and now driveways (in a lot of places) are a sheet of ice, including the roads.

Our granddaughter, Theresa, from Gardner, Mass., came up for the school vacation to visit relatives and friends. Our other granddaughter, Heather, was brought up Monday morning by her father from Freeport and Monday afternoon the girls had a good time playing out. Tuesday the girls decorated the birthday cake for Theresa's 11th birthday and Uncle George and Uncle Ira also came for supper. Ira came after work. Thursday, Heather as L.L. Bean was sending him Feb. 25 for a week to Los Angeles, Calif.

The 19th, my sister Iva and Don Holden of Norway, and Bill and Ruth Chouinard were visitors with grandchildren William and Michelle who are both pre-schoolers and Ruth is taking care of.

Feb. 17 and 18 was the State Class A ski meet at Fryeburg. Nathan Bean was on the boy's team and Shilo Hutchins was on girl's team.

Chris Laban was home Feb. 17 and 18 from his studies at U. of Maine, Orono.

Larry, Shaun, and Zack Smith, of East Conway, N.H., had Sunday (19th) dinner with his folks, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith.

The 11th, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith went to Saco to Corey Vail and Lizzy Boyan's wedding. Andy Smith was best man.

Doug and Larry Smith came back 18th from a week's vacation to Lexington, S.C., to visit Doug's son, Adam, and to Conyers, Ga., to visit Doug's sister, Christine, Doug, and Brent Bachelder.

John Landay, of Trinity College, spent vacation with the Dr. Shaw family, and Dr. Shaw, Becky, Jon and Jen went to Mt. Abram skiing for a day over the weekend.

Mary Chapman is waiting on tables at Cisco and Poncho's. The 19th, Howard, Nick and Brady Chapman, and Pip and Ada Chapman had dinner at Pat's and Poncho's.

Our valley was transformed into a wonderland of glittering enchantment when the sun appeared that morning on the new February snow. The woods were all white and the trees were glistening.

I had an unending desire to get my snowshoes and travel. At 1:30 I put them on and started for the pond. Just at the edge a few blackberry bushes grabbed me. I struggled through and I was off.

The trees that were dead only a few hours ago were now alive, for the wind was playing among them. I went across and on to the river. Silence! It was as if the world had stopped; no humans existed. Nature spoke for those who wanted to listen.

The sun shone down on winter's han-dwar as I followed the river. Some branches interlocked and formed a whispering ring of hands.

After a while I turned to the right and left the river to go to the swamp. There I saw the first animal tracks, the rabbit's. He had come hopping over the drifts and was heading for the pond. I followed him across the snow and then found not only "Peter" had been here but there were tracks and tracks of the bird. At no other time of year except winter is the movement of air so apparent as when the snow encases the earth. There were solidified ripples and waves in sweeping lines. There was added its immaculate sculpturing, which enhances special beauty to the landscape. Maybe designers could learn much from the methods of sleep of its strumming. Every bush, tree, boulder and stone wall had flowing lines.

I know the snow months, or so-called dead season, is for the young and strong. But the joyous snow of youth seems more of an enemy, as people grow older. However the beauty of the snow remains to be enjoyed.

Through all my years I have experienced my winters here. I thought of this as I pushed on into the snowdrifts and into the shadows. When I elated to see the sun behind the trees and the richness of colors except in the winter wood?

I passed under a bent birch and was again facing the pond. I crossed it to my log home at the base of Noyes Mountain and I felt a little weary but happy that I was still able enough to enjoy a snowshoe hike.

Gould boys win N.E. prep school x-c championship

After losing 1st place to Holderness School by one point in the individual boy's cross-country race at the New England Prep School Championships, last Wednesday, the Gould Academy boys regained the overall cross-country title in the relay with a convincing three-minute win over Holderness, to take 1st place in the overall cross-country.

In the individual race, 7.5K, Ben Michaud of Bethel, Jason Walz of Fitzwilliam, Kevin Davis of Bethel, and Paul Koubek of Damariscotta, took 2nd, 4th, 5th, and 9th respectively, which left the one point behind Holderness, the defending prep school champion. The Huskies depth prevailed in the 4 by 3K relay, however, as the team of Michaud, Walz, Davis, and Koubek each outskirted all of their opposition, maintaining 1st place throughout the race, and finishing two minutes and 30 seconds ahead of Holderness.

The girls had nearly as good a showing, and their best result in at least 10 years, taking 2nd place behind Holderness in both the individual 5K race and the relay. In the individual race, Patrice Leary, N.H., took 4th; Paige Christie, of Rumford, 5th; Kim Hatfield, of Belfast, 8th; and Monika Burk, of Newry, 10th—putting the Gould team only three points out of first place.

In the relay, Patrice Leary showed a strong leg to put the Gould team into 1st place until losing the lead in the final Kilometer to the top Holderness girl.

Let's see, Mike Wilson's 1st place finish, the Gould ski jumping team also had its best result ever, taking 3rd place in the Prep School Championships last Monday. Alex McCall, of Farmington, took 10th; Jeff Noyes, of Bennington, VT, 15th; Jessie Berger, of West Rockport, 18th; and Rob Todd, of Bethel, 20th.

Gould parents and friends sample the outdoors, at -18°

On the Presidents' Day weekend, 12 parents and friends of Gould Academy ascended to Newry at the L.L. Bean Center of the Outward Bound School to participate in a special three-day winter mountaineering course. The purpose of the rigorous course was to expose the participants to an abbreviated version of what all Gould junors encounter during an eight-day expedition in early March as part of Gould's Four Point program.

The "Four Point" program was established five years ago to allow each class to devote an entire week to one significant project. The goal of each "point" is to provide the students with an intensely focused period of experiential education in which the students learn by the process of deep involvement in a common project. The junior class "point" is an Outward Bound winter mountaineering course, and this was "point" which the group of 12 parents, alumnae and friends of Gould were invited to sample.

Gould Headmaster Bill Clough, with the help of Lorenzo Baker (director of student life), and Jeff Parsons (director of the L.L. Bean Outward Bound Center), began the parents' program in 1986 in order to provide Gould parents with an accurate impression of what their juniors would participate in as Gould juniors.

Although Outward Bound courses are frequently thought of as wilderness survival courses, the philosophy and goals of Outward Bound are actually more personally introspective. Thus, a participant of an OBS course normally has difficulty explaining the deeply personal benefits of his adventure to one who has not undergone a similar course. Therefore, it was felt that the parents' three-day course would allow the parents a better understanding of their children's experience.

In addition, in previous years, the mutual experience has been a source of common understanding from which parent-child relationships often improve.

Several trip participants were making the journey for more than the first time. Alan Burnell of Harrison, father of Courtney '89, was on his fourth trip—the previous three occasions having been sufficiently rewarding. Making their third trips were John Todd, of Bethel, father of the '89 Ron '90, Wilbur Holmes, of Giese Elizabeth, father of John '87, and Kirk McWilliams, of Rosedale, Ga., a friend of Gould. Making a second trip was Carol Fiske, Gould Drama Department, who was joined on the course by her son Todd Fiske, class of '81, who was on his first Gould trip, the Four Point program having been established after his graduation. Doing the same was Lowell Kronowitz, of Boston, Mass., Class of '81.

First-time parents included Candy Gibbons of Yarmouth, mother of Laura '90; and Jim Lingley of Shrewsbury, Mass., father of Patrick '91. Rounding out the group were Jim Gorman of Falmouth, the son-in-law of Wilbur Holmes; Carol Davis of North Andover, Mass., a guest of Candy Gibbons; and Mary Lou Maisel of Bethel, each of whom had heard of the course and accepted the challenge to participate.

The group of 12 was joined by Gould staff members Lorenzo Baker, who served in one of the instructional roles, and by Outward Bound staff professionals Connie and Wade Oliver. The three instructors represented a variety of technical skills as well as a characteristic OBS "jol de vivre," all of which contributed to the overall success of the expedition. However, one of the hallmarks of the Outward Bound experience is the emphasis placed on the group's initiative to learn by doing rather than by the direct teaching of the instructors.

Center in Newry at 8 a.m. on Friday, where the students were issued packs, winter expedition sleeping bags, winter expedition clothes, and other items of winter survival gear. The group was driven to Grafton Notch, where it was deposited for the start of a three-day hike on snowshoes. The group established its route for the day end, using compasses and maps, hiked into Miles Notch for its first camp. There the participants had to erect tarps into shelters, begin the process of cooking, and become self-sufficient for the night in the sheltering darkness. Temperature which had been above 10 degrees Fahrenheit during the day, began to decline, ultimately plummeting to minus-18 during the night.

The next morning the students established as their goal the summit of Sunday River Whitecap, a mountain of 3,400 feet, towering several hundred feet over the original starting point in Grafton Notch. After several hours of climbing, the summit was reached shortly after noon on Saturday under a brilliant blue sky. The remainder of Saturday was devoted to bushwhacking through heavy undergrowth and dense spruce, descending the steep south side of the mountain to attain the group's objective of level ground for adequate camping before nightfall.

The successful end of the journey came on Sunday as the group descended its course to finish the journey at the Outward Bound Center. Continuing to rely on maps and compasses alone, the group showed through the unmarked forest, reaching the base camp in mid-afternoon, in time to restore their gear to near perfect condition, shower, and gather for a sumptuous feed, prepared by Outward Bound School chef Joe Vedula.

One essential feature of Outward Bound is the necessity for each member of the group to commit to the attainment of a common goal. Individually, probably most of the group would not have chosen to have climbed Sunday River Whitecap. Individually, most of the group would not have been able to climb the mountain or perform adequately in the bone-chilling cold on deep snow. However, as a group, all of the individuals committed to attain first Miles Notch, then the summit of the mountain, then the descent, then the return to base camp.

Not only was a large mountain conquered, but a great many personal attainments that each of us harbored within were also conquered. By overcoming the challenges of the course, the participants steadily developed their self-images.

What, then, did the group of assayed Gould parents and friends learn from the experience? The Outward Bound motto is "per ardua ad astra," which means "not to yield," which is a variation of Tennyson's Ulysses' struggle: "To strive, to seek, to find, and to yield." These two quotations identify, but do not explain, the powerful forces at work, which make such an experience both uplifting and memorable. Rock climber Alan Alvarez, writing in the "New Yorker" last year about a fellow climber, Mo Antoinette, might have summed up the feelings of the participants of this course when he described "the sense of freedom and lightness."

PLEASE PASS THE JAM—These Gould Academy parents and friends took time out during their recent three-day trek for a lunch break. They were, at this point, descending from having successfully climbed Sunday River Whitecap.

Outward Bound courses are not for everyone. Yet, for those for whom this weekend opened new avenues of understanding about themselves, the weekend will assume a role of pivotal importance in personal development. For those whose children are set to embark on a similar experience as part of Gould's junior "point," it may provide a bridge of understanding between the worlds of parent and child.
